A ROUND OF TALK.

The Farmer's Springtime

A call of bluebirds from old orchards trees,
A tinge of green on southward slopes,
A thrill of gladness in each fragrant breeze,
A heart that wakes to larger hopes.

So comes the spring, and brings the farmer dreams
Of rustling corn and wheat fields fair

Of trees and vine whose fructage richly gleams,
The sweet reward of toil and care.

So joyously he goes to break the seed,
To sow the seed, to guard and lead,

Sure of the harvest's bound with which God

Will crown his labor in the end.
—E. E. Miller.

SORENESS.—They do say that the soreness and ill feeling engendered by the recent bitter local option contest in Lebanon is causing a great deal of unpleasantness and is doing an injury to the business of that town. A little example of the extent of the prejudice existing was related by a traveling salesman of a well known grocery house, here the other day. He says that he called on one of the local grocers at Lebanon and before talking business to him the prospective customer inquired of the drummer what lively firm he patronized in making his little trips in the county. The drummer named a certain firm of Iversen whereupon his customer very promptly refused to buy from him. It developed that the reason of the groceryman's refusal was that the lively firm named was on the "wet" side in the recent local option fight. It is said also that such is the prejudice and feeling worked up by the contest that farmers through out the county are refusing to trade with or to sell produce to any of the town merchants who did not agree with them on the late controversy. This is certainly an unfortunate state of affairs in our neighboring town and Springfield and Washington county people are to be congratulated that nothing of that kind has been allowed to grow among them. The local option contest in this county was warm but not to the extent of causing bitterness or arousing enmity that time has not healed.

HOW IT WORKS.—The owners of sheep in this county who have been sufferers from the depredations of sheep killing dogs were given a practical example of the working of the new dog tax law at the meeting of the Washington County Board of Magistrates here last week and we venture to say that they were favorably impressed with the new measure. Claims to the amount of $153.50 were presented by various farmers throughout the county who had lost sheep and all were promptly allowed when properly presented. The law requires that proof of a loss, together with an estimate of the value of such sheep, shall be presented to a district magistrate and when this is done the claim is allowed by the Fiscal Court to be paid by the State Auditor out of the dog tax fund. The assessor's returns this year show that over 1000 dogs were listed for taxation which means an equal number of dollars in the fund set aside for the reimbursement of sheep owners who suffer losses from the dog. The law provides that the surplus from this fund be allowed to go to the public school fund of the county.

ROADS.—The Fiscal Court at its meeting last week appropriated and recommended for appropriation about $12,000 for turnpike road construction in the county. These roads are all badly needed and no right thinking taxpayer should complain over the actions of her husband. Mrs. Bell is survived by her husband, Walter Bell, and little son, Julius. Her maiden name was Francis Cleveland Morris, daughter of Mrs. Mattie B. Morris, who now resides in Shelbyville. She was related to many Mercer county people. She was twenty three years of age and had been married nine years.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Good Judgment

is the essential characteristic of men and women. Invaluable to good business men and necessary to housewives. A woman shows good judgment when she buys White's Cream Vermifuge for her baby. The best worm medicine ever offered to mothers. Many indeed are the sensible mothers, who write expressing their gratitude for the good health of their children which they owe to the use of White's Cream Vermifuge. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Seven Break Jail.

Winchester, Ky.—Seven men broke jail here to night and made their escape. They are Frank Mahon, a white man held here pending charges of forgery and obtaining goods under false pretenses, also wanted in other places; Charles Bircham, white, who has recently been sentenced to the penitentiary for five years for horse stealing; Wm. Anderson white, held pending a charge of arson, and Dock Rome, Charles Berry, Walter Mack and James Allen, all negroes, who have committed or are charged with minor offenses.

George Williams, colored, charged with burglary, refused to go with them, and as soon as they were out gave the alarm. He was prevented from giving it before only by threats of death.

They printed aside one of the stone slabs, which is about five by three feet in size and making their way along the wall until they could drop down unperceived.

By some means a heavy timber and some smaller planks had been smuggled in, and a saw was made in the jail with a file from an old piece of steel.

With these materials wedges and levers were made and the work accomplished.

Jailer Hart organized a posse, and is now watching all county points. The police of nearby towns were also notified about 10 o'clock that Will Anderson was recaptured in the L. & N. yards here. About 10:30 Dock Rome, one of the negroes, came in of his own accord.

What is it that tastes as pleasant as maple sugar and quickly relieves coughs and colds? Mothers who have used it will quickly answer: "Kendy's Laxative Cough Syrup." The pleasant cold remedy that cures the cold through its laxative action on the bowels. Conforms strictly to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Contains no opiate. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

The City Council of Harrodsburg has passed a very stringent ordinance governing the bringing of whisky into Harrodsburg, which is a local option district. The ordinance provides that no person, corporation or common carrier shall bring into the town more than one gallon of whisky at any time, and this shall be for his individual use, and such person shall not sell or give a drink of this to another. For any violation of this ordinance the penalty is a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $100, and imprisonment for not less than ten nor more than fifty days.

Butten by a Spider.
Through blood poisoning caused by a spider bite, John Washington, of Boqueville, Tex., would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." Heals every sore. 25c at Haydon & Robertson's drug store.

Suicide.

Mrs. Francis Morris Bell, formerly of Harrodsburg, but who has lived in Louisville for several years, committed suicide at her home in that city Sunday morning by taking carbolic acid. Mrs. Bell killed her six year old son Julius, and putting a few coins in his pocket, went into an adjoining room and taking up a tin cup partially filled with the deadly drug, deliberately drained it to the dregs. She died a few hours later, after suffering frightful agony. Despondency is said to have been the cause of her act, members of the family alleging that she had worried

WORK BEGUN

On The Big Warehouse Plant of the American Society of Equity.

Work is progressing on the big tobacco warehouse plant of the Washington County Burley Tobacco Warehouse Co., which is to be located on the L. & N. railroad just below town. The foundation is laid for a big prising and storing warehouse which will be 200 by 60 feet in dimensions. This house will be used to store the tobacco in the hogheads as it is prized. It will also be equipped for prising the tobacco that is brought in from the barns where it has been hanging all winter. As soon as this storage warehouse is completed work will be begun on two other buildings. A redryer will be installed in one of these and every facility will be had to take care of the 1906 crop and all subsequent crops should it become necessary.

It is not known just how much of the 1906 crop is in the pool for the reason that the greater portion of it is being taken care of at home by the individual growers.

There have been received at the various temporary warehouses of Society about 750,000 pounds on which money has been advanced to the growers. This it is estimated represents less than half of the tobacco pledged, the remainder being held at home by the grower. All of this tobacco will be prized and stored away in hogheads in the company's big warehouse as soon as practical. It is expected to have the warehouse completed by June 1st.

Beware of Imitations for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces, such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, Price 75c per bottle. Take Halls Family Pills for constipation.

Night Riders.

Princeton, Ky.—Instead of a tobacco war, real war with shooting and bloodshed is liable to grow out of the strained situation in Western Kentucky over the dark burley market.

So-called independent or unorganized tobacco growers are having their tobacco barns dynamited or burned and their beds of seedlings destroyed by night riders, and are open in their threats to begin reprisals. Damage to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars have been done in the last few months by methods savoring of the klu klux.

The State Government has been repeatedly called upon to afford protection, but has only caused the arrest of three alleged incendiaries. The State Fire Marshal made repeated visits to this district without being able to check the outrages, which are committed almost exclusively by mounted bands of men riding four abreast, like cavalry on dress parade.

This is the planning season and night riders are out nearly every night in this section of the State burning warehouses and tobacco factories, sowing grass seed in the tobacco nursery beds, or sowing them with salt, or raking them over, ruining the very foundation of some of the little farmers' hopes of a crop this year.

All this is because certain tobacco growers refuse to band themselves with organizations which are fighting the tobacco trusts by holding their tobacco at an upset price.

Of course, the responsible heads of the organizations repudiate the lawless and declare ignorance of it. Still it continues. There is a deep resentment against the trust, because several years ago it refused to advance prices for the crops, although now it would be glad to get the crop at tempting figures. The trust is now doing very little business hereabouts. To openly deal with it in violation of the organized growers' program invites midnight outrages.

Livens, Caldwell, Christian and Logan counties have been the scenes of the most conspicuous outrages. The authorities are becoming alarmed at the prospect of a more serious situation as the result of prolonged lawlessness.

Doing Business Again

"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Chisholm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again of old, and am still gaining daily." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by Haydon & Robertson druggists: 50c.

After Trust.

Frankfort, Ky.—That the Attorney General of the State of Texas will father prosecute the investigations of the Standard Oil Company, not only in that State, but elsewhere in the United States, is evidence of a letter which came to the department of the Secretary of State from Attorney General Davidson. He requests Secretary McChesney to secure and have sent him under the great seal of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, a copy of the articles of incorporation of the Standard Oil Company, in Kentucky, the Kentucky branch of the big company. These articles were originally filed in the office of the Jefferson County Court, and Secretary McChesney has referred the matter to that office to supply the Texas official the information which he desires to secure.

Graded School Tournament

It Will be a Big Event for Springfield as 500 Visitors are Expected.

On May 23, 24, and 30th the Blue Grass Graded School Tournament will be held here. This is an event with considerable interest to the town, as it is probable that from 800 to 500 visitors will be present. The tournament embraces the foremost schools of the bluegrass and neighboring territory and the contests will be interesting. They will include athletics, scholarship, singing and declamations.

The Springfield Graded School is preparing to take a considerable part in the contests, as it is training in baseball, singing and declamation, and a number of spelling matches have been held to determine the winners in orthography. After a series of contests embracing the grades from fifth to the High School graduates, the eighth grade was the representation. The contest which will determine the representation in male solo will be held at Miss Sue Ray's recital at the Opera House April 28. Owenston which was the championship last year will be here with a large delegation.

The Finest Man in the World

The richest man in the world can not have his kidneys replaced nor at any time after five years. Inasmuch as the kidney is not in a position to pay any considerable sum for repairs to the old building, it is believed that voting the bonds and erecting a new building is much the best solution of the question.—Eater-pier.

Into Business

Mr. Frank C. Peters has purchased a half interest in the livery firm of Brown & Dobney, the latter member of the firm retiring, and the business in the future will be known as Browne & Peters. Mr. Dobney has not decided as to what business he will engage in, but our citizens are hoping that he and his excellent family will continue to reside among us. The junior member of the new firm is no stranger in our city and needs no introduction at our hands. Suffice it to say, Frank is a fine young gentleman and here's hoping that the new firm may live long and prosper.—Fowler.

Early Tobacco Planting

Some valuable suggestions regarding early planting of tobacco have been given by E. H. Mathewson, a practical tobacco grower of Appomattox county, Virginia. He says:

Many good farmers do not seem fully alive to the advantages from early as compared with late crops of tobacco. Late tobacco possesses some advantages, it is true, and there will probably come seasons now and then when late crops will give better results. Such unusual seasons cannot be foreseen, however, and in making plans for the year it is the average season that must be considered.

The normal argument of the tobacco advocate consists in pointing out that the cool nights and heavy dews of the fall make the tobacco thicker and more gummy. As a matter of fact, this is undoubtedly true, but even the benefit derived is largely imaginary.

What really happens in the cooler weather is not an actual adding to the substance of the leaf and a net increase in the weight harvested, but rather a retardation of growth and a fulling, or shrinking of the leaf in thickening, which happens at the expense of spread, so that the actual pounds of leaf harvested is, in most cases, less for a late crop than for an early one; other things, such as soil fertility, etc., being the same. Tobacco is a hot weather plant, and it makes real growth best when both days and nights are warm.

The cool, fall weather, in addition to causing a smaller although somewhat thicker leaf, causes also a hardening or lignifying of the leaf tissues, so that while the leaf is thicker it is also more woody and less elastic. Ignoring all other points for the moment, it is thus doubtful if what appears to be a gain, that is increased gumminess and thickness, is not more than offset by reduced size and loss in net weight produced on a given acre, and by loss in elasticity of stretchiness.

Rest is the great restorer. We tire our muscles by exercise and the rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomachs. As a usual thing no part of our bodies is so generally overworked as our digestive organs. A tired and overworked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning, and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. Kodol is a most thorough stomach restorer, it digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assists in restoring to its normal activity and usefulness. Kodol is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Indian Relics

Mr. T. W. Davenport brought to The Herald office the other day some genuine relics of the days when this country was the home, or the hunting ground, of the noble Red man.

These relics consist of a stone tomahawk and six or seven flint arrow heads which the Indians used in their warfare against the whites. Mr. Davenport found these on his farm, having plowed them up. He says that all the indications point to the fact that the spot where they were found was the grave of an Indian and that the tomahawk and arrow heads had been buried with the Indian, as was the custom with many of the tribes that infested Kentucky on their hunting expeditions. Years ago it was a common occurrence to unearth a number of these old Indian warfare relics, but in late years they are seldom found. On the farm of the Messrs. LaRue, north of town, there has been hundreds of them found, the place being a knoll, on which was situated a fort, and many are the battles that took place there between the Indians and the whites.

There are other points in the county where they were numerous, but they were generally found at spots where battles had occurred or where Indians had been buried.—Hodgenville Herald.

Great Farm

James B. Haggis, the millionaire, who last at his Elmsford farm near Lexington, Ky., the largest stock of thoroughbred horses in the world, and who proposes soon to establish at Elmsford a magnificent dairy to supply Lexington with milk, indicated by his purchase last Friday of the Gramere herd of Shorthorn cattle, owned by the late William Warfield, that he intends to make Elmsford famous for the production of Shorthorns as it has been for other fine stock. The Gramere herd is one of the most famous Shorthorn collections in America and embraces many representatives of the Young Mary, Rose of Sharon, Young Pyllis, Josephine and other illustrious families among Shorthorn cattle.—Farmers Home Journal.

A Whistler

W. L. Moore, of Cardwell, Washington county, enjoys the distinction of being able to whistle two hours of the same tune at once. The other day in The Herald office he gave an exhibition of his musical power. He carried the tenor and alto in perfect time in soft musical tones of that good old hymn, "Jesus Lover of My Soul." He has been requested to whistle this hymn next Sunday evening at the big union meeting under the auspices of the Young Business Men's Club.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Strange Case.

Mr. J. A. McCroskey, who lives in the McAfee neighborhood, recently lost a very valuable cow despite his strenuous efforts to save her useful life. The animal, which had abundantly supplied the family milk and butter for several years, gradually lost her appetite and finally grew poor and weaker daily. Various remedies, as suggested by neighbors,

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have health enough to be active and vigorous unless the blood is in proper condition. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier and tonic. It is sold by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. We have no secret! We publish the formula of our medicine.

They were tried in vain. Her horns were bored for hollow horn; next her tail was split to cure hollow tail, drenches and purgatives availed nothing, and so the cow, after several weeks of suffering died. Mr. McCroskey performed a post-mortem examination, and discovered the cause of the agonizing death. In her stomach he first found one of his shirts, then a pair of stockings and two or three children's undergarments. These garments were missed from the clothes line but it was supposed by the family that they had been stolen until the cow was dissected.—Herald.

Why

have a torrid liver when Herbine the only liver regulator will help you? There is no reason why you should suffer from Dyspepsia, Constipation, Chills and Fever or any liver complaint, when Herbine will cure you. F. C. Sheep Killed.

Mr. J. S. Underwood, who lives in the vicinity of Moreland, lost a number of head of his fine sheep Monday night as the result of a raid on the part of worthless dogs. One of his neighbors' lost forty head on the same night, and other farmers lost less heavily. Altogether, the farmers around Moreland lost about $1,000 worth of sheep during one night. All of the L. ncoln county dog fund for this year will be required to pay the Moreland farmers for the loss sustained. The next legislature should raise the tax on dogs to $5 per head.—Danville Herald.

Much Mixed.

Two prominent citizens were discussing local opinion a few days ago and the "wet" advocate called the "dry" a "d-n-d" crank. For this abusive language he was fined $2 and in the police court, in all $5.

The attorney, Captain Corn, thereupon made a motion that the case be taxed at 50 cents. The attorney claims that under the statutes the arresting officer in misdemeanor cases is only allowed 50 cents and that the City Council by ordinance has no right or power to make the cost higher than stipulated by the statutes. Judge Grimes has the matter under consideration, and should be decided that the $5 costs is legal Attorney Corn will turn his client's body over to the court and the prominent citizen will go to jail to pay it, and will then bring suit against the town for false imprisonment, he having signified a willingness to suffer the ignominy of the re-ekiple in order to test it. On the other hand should Judge Grimes decide that the officer is entitled to only 50 cents, hundreds of police court victims, who paid the $5 in the years a zone, can if they so desire, claim that $250 be refunded to them. This decision is awaited with great interest.—Harrodsburg Herald.

The Price of Health. "The price of health in a malarious district is just 25 cents; the cost of a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills, writes Ella Jayson of Noland, Ark. On one occasion Harry and Eddie, two little boys, were out in their back yard to have church. As Harry was the older of the two, he said, "I'll be the preacher and preach you a sermon." "Well," said Eddie, "I'll be the people," and so Harry began by announcing his text. "My brethren, my text today is 'Be kind.' There are some little texts in the Bible for little children, and this is one of them."

"Firstly—Be kind to father. Don't bother him when he's busy. Don't make a noise when he's at work. Father has to work hard and earn money."

"Secondly—Be kind to mother. Don't make her work too hard and earn money."

"Thirdly—Be kind to Mary. She is small and lame and can't talk plain."

"Finally, my brethren, be kind to the cat. Amen!"—Brooklyn Eagle.
